

Though I beleave this RM concerning the licensing of amateur radio stations and the proposial to reinstate a higher morse code requirement is laudable. Since morse code proficiency would be a benefit during an emergency and should be kept for that reason, I do believe that the "cat is out of the bag" and any attempt to up the morse code speed requirement would be totally unrealistic.

Chris Maukonen
WA4CM